

Kim — this can help for the protein

From Dr. Seyfried's approach. Two tips from me, then his picture.

Two tips

- You're on the right track with bone broth. Add butter if he can take it.
- No carbs or sugar unless it's an avocado or something that's mostly fat.

What Seyfried's diet looks like

- Not a carnivore / big-meat diet.
- Most calories from fat — olive oil, butter, ghee, avocado, MCT. Protein is a side.
- When he can eat: eggs, fish, or a little clean meat, always with fat.
- If he needs a shake: unsweetened pea or rice, no sugar — or bone broth protein. I can check brands. Dr. Max can fill in the amounts.